

Keli Hemda (כלי חמדה, "The Precious Instrument") — Editorial footnotes (draft)

Isaac ben Solomon ibn al-Aḥdab (יצחק בן שלמה אבן אלאחדב), c. 1350–c. 1429 (Castile → Sicily) — same author as ibn_al_ahdab/orah_selulah_heb1086. Drafted editorial footnotes for review before publication. Each note is keyed to its anchor in the manuscript-grade complete edition — the collated output that retains the per-batch/page scaffolding the anchors reference (produced by `ms`). The reading in the main text is preserved as printed/transcribed and is not altered by these notes. The note text below is a draft — review and edit before publication.

The notes are classified as follows:

- Category B — source compositor error. A printing, compositor, or scribal error in the source itself (a wrong letter or digit, a dropped or doubled word, a non-resolving citation). The likely intended reading is noted, but the main text preserves exactly what is printed.
- Category C — author/source anomaly. An anomaly originating with the author or the source rather than the typesetting (a factual or geographic slip, a misattribution, an internal inconsistency, or a deliberate but unusual feature). Recorded as written.
- Missing-source lacuna. A point where source text is missing, damaged, or illegible. The note states what should stand at the gap and points to an alternate witness where one is known.

1. batch_001 / f. 208r — Category B — source compositor error

The incipit announces that the work comprises "seven gates" (ז' שערִים; the numeral zayin = 7 is confirmed unambiguously), yet only four component-items (הא-הד) are enumerated at this point. There is no contradiction: the four items label the instrument's physical parts (the long rule, the rotating disk, the bar, and the plates of position), whereas a "gate" (שער) is the treatise's chapter unit. The two enumerations count different things. DRAFT.

2. batch_004 / f. 211v — Category B — source compositor error

On f. 211v a higher-level division opens — "the Second Treatise" (המחברת השנית); the feminine ordinal השנית is confirmed, ruling out a reading as מאמר — after which the gate numbering restarts at "First Gate" (שער ראשון). This is a genuine two-level structure (Treatise → Gates), not a numbering error; the reader should expect the gate count to begin again from one under each treatise. DRAFT.

3. batch_007 / f. 214v — Category C — author/source anomaly

The text of Keli Hemda ends on f. 214v with a doxology (ותהלה לאל, אמן) — "and praise to God, Amen" — followed by a decorative scribal flourish/knot, matching the catalog delimitation of the treatise (ff. 208–214v). No colophon naming a scribe or bearing a date is present beyond the doxological formula; what remains of the leaf is blank parchment (faint red marks are bleed-through from the ruled table on f. 215r). The terminus is recorded as-is; no dated subscription exists. DRAFT.

4. batch_007 / ff. 214r–214v — Missing-source lacuna

The gate ordinals in the closing run of the Second Treatise (a "שער" heading at the foot of f. 213v, then four further headings across ff. 214r–214v — most plausibly Gates 13 through 17) could not be securely read: the שער display words are present and the ascending single run is secure, but the numeral suffixes remain at the cursive/scan floor even at 4×4 native-resolution tiling, and none was pattern-filled. The gate sequence is contiguous; the exact ordinals are unresolved. DRAFT.

5. batch_008 / f. 215r — Missing-source lacuna

A two-line marginal note in Judeo-Arabic is present in the left margin of f. 215r beside the astronomical table. Its presence is recorded, but its content is not confidently legible at the available resolution. DRAFT.
